Portland Gallery is delighted to announce an exhibition of modern and contemporary Scottish Art this September. Our deliberately eclectic selection of works draws on Scotland's rich visual art history, from the Colourists through post war-abstract of Davie and Barns-Graham and onto the thriving contemporary art scene in the country.

Easter Series (2001) by Wilhelmina Barns-Graham, CBE

Portland Gallery has a proud history of supporting Scottish Art and representing Scottish artists, although this will be our first dedicated group show since the creation of the E.O.T.. Our exhibition will draw on work from represented estates such as F.C.B. Cadell and John Maclauchlan Milne, together with established gallery artists such as Archie Forrest, Gordon Mitchell and Lachlan Goudie. These artists will be shown alongside some of the greats of 20th century Scottish Art, including S.J. Peploe, J.D. Fergusson, Anne Redpath, Alan Davie and Wilhelmina Barns-Graham.
